ORDER

The plaintiff has filed this application to pass ad-interim order against defendant No. 1 in terms of prayer clause (a) (b) and (c) of application Exh. 9.

2. In short, it is application of the plaintiff that the plaintiff has filed the application for interim injunction in the suit on the ground of reason mentioned in the application and prayed to allow the application.

3. Say of the defendant is called. Defendant No.1 objected the application on the ground that today defendant No.1 has handed over case papers to the advocate. Hence, in the interest of justice, equity and good conscience prayed to adjourn the hearing of the application for a week and prayed to reject the application.

4. Heard both the learned advocates for the parties. They argued to the tune of the application. They prayed to pass appropriate order for the interest of justice. Already, the interim application is decided by the Court on merit. Hence, there is no question of passing ad-interim injunction order. Hence, this application become infructuous. In the circumstances, this application is liable to be dismissed and disposed off. Hence, the order
